

Published: January 27, 2011

Home / news / local /

Safe Haven celebrates success

By Teresa Garofalo

The Providence Housing Authority held a celebration for its Youth Safe Haven/Police Mini-Station.

It's an after-school enrichment program.

Providence Police and public schools partner with the Housing Authority to run it.

This year, the safe Haven received a grant of more than $100,000 dollars from the Milton S. Eisenhower Foundation.

The program includes kids aged 6 to 12.

It aims to reduce crime and improve kids' reading and math skills.

---

Turnto10.com © Copyright 2011 Media General Communications Holdings, LLC. A Media General company.